Our FNA Wagons Have Arrived And Are Now In Stock!

accurascale

Great news! Our FNA nuclear flask wagons have arrived in stock! Our latest current era wagon project was announced at the 2022 Great Electric Train Show last October and has arrived in Q3 of 2023 as per the initial announcement.

accurascale

Created with the assistance of W.H Davis, the builders of the prototype wagons, our FNA model is the latest in a growing line of nuclear flask wagons, alongside our monster KUA wagons and our various nuclear loads for our lovely little PFA wagons.

accurascale

With an unbeatable specification featuring diecast chassis, rotating axle caps, working tail lamps (on one wagon per twin pack, controlled by magnetic wagon and powered by battery sold separately) a wealth of separately applied plastic and etched metal parts and an array of printed warning labels, our FNA wagons offer exceptional value for money at £74,95 per twin pack, and of course 10% off when you buy two packs or more.

As you can see when we took the pre-production models out for a spin on the wonderful "Bradwells Point", they make for an excellent short current era freight movement and also look great behind our modernised Class 37s.

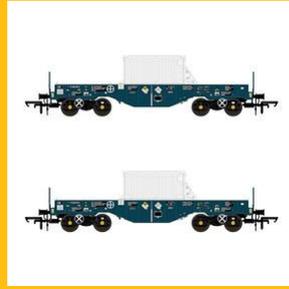

We are currently breaking down the pallets after their sea voyage and counting the wagons into stock. They will be checked this afternoon and shipping will commence from tomorrow (Wednesday)

Fancy some? Check out your local stockist, or order yours below from the limited remaining stock!

A Closer Look At Our New Chaldrons

We recently took delivery of four new packs of chaldron 'black waggons', with two packs building on the very quick sell outs of run one, and two representing two new packs featuring two collieries not offered in run one.

We took a selection of the new wagons and visited our latest retailer; 'Digitrains', where John Gay has his beautiful layout 'Halland', which is based in their shop. Many thanks for having us over to visit!

The four packs are as follows:

Pack L: North Eastern Railway - Three P1 style Chaldrons, circa 1890.

Pack M: Seaham Dock Co. - Three 4T 'Black Waggons', in three body styles, circa 1950s.

Pack N: The Throckley Coal Company - Formed in 1867, the Throckley Coal Company owned a number of pits to the west of Newcastle, on the north bank of the River Tyne, and were linked to Staiths situated at Leamington by two separate railway branches. Throckley's fleet of Chaldrons were in use right up to 1947, when they were scrapped by burning, and the company was one of the few that fitted their ex-NER P1 Chaldrons with additional 'greedy boards'.

Three P1 style Chaldrons, two fitted with additional 'Greedy Boards', circa 1946

Pack O: The Harton Coal Company - With two sets of Staiths on the River Tyne, the area around South Shields was the centre of the Harton Coal Company's operations, its pits being linked by an extensive railway system. This system was electrified in 1907, and the Chaldrons were a common sight on the system until the inter-war years, when the fleet was disbanded, with a number of differing lettering styles being utilised.

Two P1 style Chaldrons and an S&DR style Chaldron, circa 1910.

All four packs are now in stock on our website and with retailers for the same great price of £44.99, with 10% off, free postage and packaging to the UK and 3% cash back on loyalty points when you buy direct from our website.

Order yours below, and check out our loads and other packs from run 1!

Check Out Our Banana Vans In Action On Halland

Great news! The latest in the Accurascale UK 'Supplying Britain' range, the Southern Railways Banana Vans inches closer. Production has been underway for a while now and the painting is almost complete with assembly just about to get underway.

Delivery of these vans will take place in mid Q4 of 2023!

We took our decorated samples for a play, Big thanks to John G over at Digitrains Ltd for the invite onto his layout 'Halland'. As you can see, they looked very much at home on this lovely layout.

Check out our pics!

Making Tracks Begins Today - We Take It Over Aug 4-5

Making Tracks is back! Today sees the return of the Making Tracks summer exhibition at Chester Cathedral with Pete Waterman and the Railnuts team.

We're delighted to be sponsoring this wonderful event for the first time as the team look to raise much needed funds for the magnificent Cathedral which provides the venue for this wonderful layout.

This year we're treated to the biggest undertaking yet as the team recreates Milton Keynes station on the West Coast Mainline through a massive 64ft 'OO' gauge layout.

The layout fiddle yard will be filled with all the latest stock from Accurascale which will be put through its paces running 7 hours per day for 6 weeks straight! The best part is visitors can take to the controls and drive our full rakes around the layout themselves.

Further to this, we will be hosting an 'Accurascale Takeover' on the 4th & 5th of August where we'll be showcasing early samples of our anticipated Class 50, Class 31, Class 89 and perhaps a new announcement...

The Accurascale team will also be on hand to discuss all things Accurascale, so please come along and meet some of our gang!

Don't miss your chance to join Pete Waterman OBE and the Railnuts team for the third instalment of Making Tracks at Chester Cathedral from 26th July to 2nd September.

Making Tracks 3 will run from 10am to 5pm Mondays to Saturdays, Tickets are priced at £3 per person with free entry for children under 5. All proceeds go to Chester Cathedral.

As well as new and pre-production models, there will be a host of our models from our back catalogue, from full length Caledonian sleeper trains to our new FNA-D flask wagons in action on the layout. Shop below for some of these in stock models if you like what you see!
