PRE-ORDER ANNOUNCEMENTS - LATE SUMMER 2020

GUARANTEED PRE-ORDER DUE DATE: WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 14TH 2020

August 2020

Dear Model Railroader,

Welcome to the August-September edition of the Atlas All Scales Monthly Catalog. This catalog is the core of our guaranteed pre-order system. Prior to the start of supplier production, Atlas announces to authorized dealers, distributors and e-subscribers that we are ready to take orders. This notification comes in the form of Atlas' All Scales Monthly Catalog (ASMC) which focuses in on the current month's planned and specified announcements and allows consumers to place guaranteed pre-orders with their local hobby shop for those specific products by a given date.

Product fulfillment after the set pre-order date cannot be guaranteed but we will make all attempts to fill these additional orders from available cushion. Please note that Atlas does not require any of its customers to provide financial deposits on any pre-ordered products, guaranteed or cushion. Your investment is limited to your pre-order, patience and belief that Atlas will provide you with an outstanding model that you will proudly own and operate for years to come.

You may notice that certain offerings, such as the 25,500 Gallon Tank Cars in this catalog, are marked as Limited Availability as we cannot guarantee pre-orders for these items. For certain Limited Edition items, we speculate on the desired quantity and begin production before the item is announced in a catalog. We will do our best to fulfill as many orders for these items as possible.

If you need assistance finding a dealer near you, don't forget our Hobby Store Locator! Check out the locator at <http://shop.atlasrr.com/storeLocator.aspx>. You can also view and reserve products via Atlas' online store shop.atlasrr.com.

This edition of the ASMC features two new Master line models - the HO Slab Side Hopper and O 40' Refrigerated (or Reefer) Containers. In addition, two very unique paint schemes are being announced to "spice up" the Master 25,500 Gallon Tank Car in HO & N. You may recognize these schemes if you saw our SURPRISE O scale announcement last month. You'll find all of those wonderful models and more inside, as well as arriving locomotives, rolling stock and track in all scales.

We hope that you enjoy the product selections on the pages within, and as always, thank you for your continued support of Atlas!

Happy Modeling,

Joe Kolnoski
Vice President of Sales

Built between 1976 and 1982, the EMD GP15-1 4-axle diesel locomotive was powered by a 12-cylinder EMD 645E engine that generated 1,500 hp. It was commonly used as a light road switcher or a yard switcher.

A total of 310 units were built for American railroads.

Features:

- Scale dimensions and details
- Directional lighting
- DCC Ready
- Blackened metal wheels
- Dual flywheel equipped 5-pole skewed armature motor with a low friction mechanism
- Factory-installed AccuMate® magnetic knuckle couplers!

The 40' Boxcar is widely known as one of the most popular freight cars used by railroads as they transitioned from steam to diesel. In particular the Pullman Standard or PS-1 design was one of the most popular and was widely used by North American railroads. These boxcars were built beginning in 1947 and share the same basic design, with certain elements such as door size, door style or roof type varying among the different railroads and production years. When production of these cars ceased in 1963, over 100,000 had been produced.

Features:

- Body Mounted Accumate Couplers
- Barber S-2A 50-ton Trucks with Metal Wheels
- Separately Applied Ladders
- Etched Metal Roof Walk
- 10' or 12' Stiffener Roof per prototype
- Ajax and Miner Brake Wheels

In response to a growing need for more efficient ways to load and unload bulk products like grain, malt or chemical fertilizers, in the early 1960s Pullman-Standard introduced the PS-2CD, or Center Discharge covered hopper. Available with a variety of linings or interior coatings to handle either food-grade materials or chemical products, these purpose-built cars rapidly supplanted the use of the common boxcar for loose bulk commodity traffic. This 4000 cubic foot / 100 ton car was produced between 1962 and 1964, and could be found in revenue service across North America for over 40 years from the 1960s through the early 2000's. The Atlas models of these commonly seen cars feature fine scale detailing, etched roofwalks and brake platforms, accurate painting and lettering, prototypical ride height and trucks.

Features:

- Ready to run
- Injection-molded plastic body
- Fine-scale detail
- Chemically etched roof walk and brake platform
- Prototypical ride height
- Accurately painted and printed
- BLMA 100-ton trucks
- BLMA 36" metal wheels
- Brown knuckle couplers

AccuMate® couplers are made under license from AccuRail, Inc.

In the early Sixties, Evans Products saw a need for specialized cars to transport coiled steel. The existing cars at the time were often 70-ton specially equipped mill gondolas. The new commodity-specific coil-steel cars were built with a 100-ton capacity using a trough frame and body. The early designs were refined during the 1960s and eventually Evans adopted a 48-foot length as standard. Production lasted well into the 1970s. The Atlas 48-foot coil steel car is based on the Evans design of 1967 as well as being a close stand-in for the 1970s cars.

Features:

- Die-cast body
- Crisp painting and lettering
- Two removable rounded hoods with stacking frames
- Detailed wood lined trough floor

Atlas Master N Trinity 25,500 Gallon Tank Car
TILX "Louisiana Hot Sauce"

TILX tank cars are used in food service to transport vegetable oil and other liquid ingredients. A number of these tank cars received the colorful Louisiana Hot Sauce logo - but they are not in fact filled with hot sauce, contrary to popular belief. Instead, they are exclusively used to transport vinegar, one of the key ingredients in hot sauce. Atlas' model is a faithful recreation of the prototype and is ready to spice things up on your layout!

ADMX "Kung fu Fighters" Graffiti Car

Atlas' Research & Development Team does a fair share of railfanning before and after work and on their lunch breaks. During one of these outings Atlas' CEO, Paul Graf, captured this ADMX tank car with unique and humorous Kung Fu fighter graffiti awaiting delivery to a local salad dressing factory in Hillside, NJ. We have carefully recreated this unique car, available for pre-order now from your Atlas Authorized Dealer.

Conrail - U33B

Rock Island - U33B

The horsepower race was in full swing by the late 1960s when GE introduced the 3,300hp, four-axle U33B locomotive. 137 units were produced between September 1967 and August 1970 when production ended. GE upped the horsepower ante in 1970 with the introduction of the 3,600hp U36B which was produced between May 1970 and December 1974. Both models were externally identical, and internally they were both powered by the same GE FDL-16 cylinder four-stroke engine. The horsepower increase was achieved through adjustments to the fuel rack settings and other internal component changes. One key spotting feature of both models was the built-out radiator "wings" on the long hood.

Atlas' U33B and U36B model is being offered in both an early and late phase. The early phase model includes flushmounted radiator screens and air intake screens on the long hood. In addition, there is a built-out area on the top of the front and rear pilots. Late phase models include corrugated radiator and air intake screens, with a flat pilot face. An optional separate electrical equipment box is included on the left side walkway behind the cab per the prototype. AAR-B or Blomberg trucks are used when appropriate.

Box cars in the past fifty years have generally fallen into one of five distinct frame lengths, 40-, 50-, 52-, 60- and 86-foot. The least common of these is the 52-foot box cars. Although not as numerous as its shorter and longer companions, the 52-foot non-insulated box designs have provided an important role in the lumber industry.

The car is essentially a "stretched" 5277 with one-foot added outside the bolsters giving the car its distinctive overhang. It is equipped with double sliding doors and a cushioned underframe. Southern Pacific was the sole original operator of this design and ordered 700 of these unique looking boxcars split between Southern Pacific (525 cars), Amador Central (75 cars) and the Longview, Portland & Northern (100 cars).

Features:

- Double Sliding Doors
- Wire grabs
- Etched parts
- Plate C Box Car
- X-Panel Roof

The development of the covered hopper car for the transport of bulk commodities for the agricultural, chemical, and construction industries entered a new phase in the late 1940s, when the shops of the Canadian Pacific Railroad introduced a 70-ton, 3000 cubic foot, interior braced hopper with smooth, welded sides similar in appearance to the Canadian offset side open hoppers of the era. This "slab side" design actually maximized the interior width of the car, thereby lowering the center of gravity and improving tracking stability. Cars of this design were produced from 1950-1964 by National Steel Car Company, Canadian Car and Foundry, Marine Industries, and even Montreal Locomotive Works. Over the years of production, a number of different roof hatch arrangements for product loading were available, and the openings along the side sills — an early design change made by CP to give better access to the discharge mechanisms — became standard on all cars produced after 1954. These cars were a common sight on Canadian and US rails through the late 1990s hauling grain, malt, sugar, cement, or even in company sand service. The Atlas model of this distinctive car is available in 6, 8, and 12 hatch versions, with or without the side sill openings.

Features:

- Highly detailed
- Prototypically accurate
- era-appropriate paint schemes and lettering

TILX "Louisiana Hot Sauce"

TILX tank cars are used in food service to transport vegetable oil and other liquid ingredients. A number of these tank cars received the colorful Louisiana Hot Sauce logo - but they are not in fact filled with hot sauce, contrary to popular belief. Instead, they are exclusively used to transport vinegar, one of the key ingredients in hot sauce. Atlas' model is a faithful recreation of the prototype and is ready to spice things up on your layout!

ADMX "Kung fu Fighters" Graffiti Car

Atlas' Research & Development Team does a fair share of railfanning before and after work and on their lunch breaks. During one of these outings Atlas' CEO, Paul Graf, captured this ADMX tank car with unique and humorous Kung Fu fighter graffiti awaiting delivery to a local salad dressing factory in Hillside, NJ. We have carefully recreated this unique car, available for pre-order now from your Atlas Authorized Dealer.

The 1937 AAR Box Car is widely recognized as the first standard freight car design to be voluntarily adopted by the majority of railroads throughout the United States. Although previous USRA designs also achieved widespread distribution, their success was mostly due to government control rather than popular acceptance. The 1937 AAR Box Car also had many features that became standard on boxcars for years to come, including dreadnaught ends, straight panel roof and an inside length of 40' 6". They had an interior height of 10' with a 3700 cubic foot capacity. With only a few variations built, this design helped the industry realize the economic advantages of freight equipment standardization; a concept that continues into the modern era.

Features:

- Quick and easy assembly
- Highly detailed body with molded ladders and grab irons
- One-piece underframe with full brake detail
- Quality painting/printing of prototypical paint schemes

Since the 1970s most international freight has been shipped by standardized 20- and 40-foot containers. Some of this huge flow of cargo between countries needs to be refrigerated for the transit. The second most common type of ISO* container in use is the refrigerated container. Today's refrigerated container design uses high tech composite (plastics and metals) construction and a "picture frame" type refrigeration unit. Atlas' model represents a standard 40-foot high-cube refrigerated container (ISO Type Code 45R1) found in many shipping and leasing fleets.

*ISO is the International Organization for Standardization.

Features:

- 40-foot High-Cube Refrigerated Container
- Composite materials sandwich-sides design
- Detailed picture window refrigeration unit with separate parts
- ISO Type 45R1

A side-view illustration of a red PRR S0002 hopper car. The car features a large, rounded, dome-shaped body. On the side, the text "PRR S0002" is prominently displayed in white, with "40' 10\" below it. A red shield logo with the letters "PRR" is visible on the left side. The car is equipped with multiple sets of wheels (axles) and has various mechanical components like ladders and couplers visible at the top and ends.

A detailed side view of a red and black rail tanker car, model NS 49012. The car features a large yellow wavy stripe running along its side. It has various safety and identification markings, including a diamond-shaped hazard symbol, a 'GAB' logo, and the text 'NS 49012'. The car is shown on a set of railroad tracks.

Along with the Extended-Vision body style, the Bay Window Caboose became one of the preferred designs for cabooses built in the 1950s and beyond. It offered improved visibility for better views of the train while in motion as well as modern amenities for the crew. This TRAINMAN model is based upon features of the Southern Pacific C-30-6 bay window cabooses of 1951, but at the same time is representative of the thousands of such cars used on American railroads.

Features:

- Separately-applied see-through roof walk, smoke stack, brake wheel and brake lines
- Premium die-cast couplers and friction bearing caboose trucks
- Weighted, detailed underframes
- Interior lighting with on/off control switch on chassis
- 2-Rail cars feature 33" scale wheels and body-mounted scale couplers
- Accurate and colorful decoration
- Minimum diameter curve: 0-31 (3 rail)
- Minimum radius curve: 24" (2 rail)
