Happy New Year!

PRE-ORDER ANNOUNCEMENTS - JANUARY 2021

GUARANTEED PRE-ORDER DUE DATE: WEDNESDAY FEBRUARY 17TH 2021

January 2021

Dear Model Railroader,

Happy New Year and welcome to the January 2021 premiere edition of the Atlas All Scales Monthly Catalog (ASMC). The ASMC is the basis of our guaranteed pre-order system. Before Atlas gives suppliers the green light for final production, Atlas announces to its authorized dealers, distributors and e-subscribers that we are ready to take guaranteed pre-orders. This notification comes in the form of regular ASMCs that focus on the current month's planned production announcements and allows customers an opportunity to place guaranteed pre-orders if submitted to Atlas by a given date. Fulfillment after this date is not guaranteed, but Atlas will attempt to fill orders if additional quantities are available. In other cases, Atlas may speculate on order quantities in order to bring products to market more quickly. We will do our best to meet demand, however, in these instances allocations to dealers, distributors and their customers may be required.

The January ASMC has something for everyone with Master Line locomotives in N & HO scales - the N RS-2 and the HO MP15DC. N scale modelers will also be glad to find 42' Coil Cars and Trainman 90 Ton Hoppers to add to their rosters. HO modelers will see the all new NSC Newsprint Box Car as well as new paint schemes and new road numbers on the ever popular 73' Center Partition Cars and Trainman 3650 Hoppers. For O Scale, we're reintroducing the ever popular 11,000 Gallon Tank Cars and PS-4427 Hoppers. You'll find all these new, tried and true models, and much more inside including a listing of the latest locomotive, rolling stock and track arrivals at an authorized Atlas Dealer.

You are encouraged to view all major Atlas on-line catalogs, including 'New Arrivals', 'In-Stock', 'Track and Accessories' and useful others, at shop.atlasrr.com. For assistance finding an Atlas Dealer near you, check out our convenient on-line Dealer Locator:

Thank you for your interest and enthusiasm in Atlas quality model railroad products.

Happy Model Railroading,

Drew Postle,
Atlas Sales Manager

After a successful first run of road switchers (The RS-1), Alco's second attempt at a versatile four-axle locomotive came in late 1946. This was the stylized RS-2, keeping similar features as the RS-1 (Long carbody and short front nose), but with many upgrades. The most notable features were the rounded carbody and a new 244 prime mover, which increased the horsepower to 1,500, a 500hp upgrade over the RS-1. With the added horsepower, the RS-2 was received well by railroads for its ability to tackle any service it was given.

On a daily basis, one could see two RS-2s powering a general merchandise freight, plying the hills with a loaded coal train coming back from the tippie, or running a passenger train at speed. The Delaware & Hudson would later retrofit their fleet with steam boilers and water tanks for passenger service. The Laurentian was one such service it powered, with dual RS-2s and a striking lightning stripe consist. For example, Southern successfully built over 370 of these versatile locomotives for railroads large and small. A good example was the Southern, Delaware & Hudson, and the New York Central ordered over 20 each, whereas the Birmingham Southern and the Texas and Pacific railroads both ordered just a single locomotive. The success of the RS-2 would later pave the way for the RS-3. Today, only a handful of prototypes exist, mostly in museums or on tourists operations.

Features:

- Slow Speed Motor
- Golden-White LEDs
- Directional lighting
- Dual brass flywheels
- Low-friction mechanism
- Dynamic brakes
- Factory-installed AccuMate® magnetic knuckle couplers
- Accurate painting and lettering

Paint scheme correct for car of a similar prototype

The increased volume of coiled steel transportation gave rise to a new purpose-built freight car. Previously rolls of coiled-steel had generally traveled in specially equipped gondola cars. In the 1960's a lighter type of car emerged specifically for hauling coils of steel in an integral trough. The car type gained popularity and eventually over 17,000 cars were built. Atlas' model replicates a 42' design with a distinctive fishbelly side sill.

Features:

- Crisp painting and lettering
- See-through walks
- Removable hood
- Inside floor detail

In 1967, the National Steel Car Corporation of Hamilton, Ontario, created the first purpose-built cars for handling dedicated newsprint paper transport between Canada and the US. These cars featured riveted or welded sides, and completely smooth interior surfaces – including the doors – which was necessary to protect the large rolls of paper which weighed as much as 2000 pounds each. These rolls were normally stacked two high, requiring an internal height of more than 9 feet for clearance. These paper rolls also required large door openings, and the cars featured sliding Youngstown lever-type flush plug doors or lever-less exterior post plug doors. These cars were originally purchased by seven different railroads (CN, CV, CP, DWP, PGE, MDW, and QNS&L) and were regularly seen in international paper shipping service through the late 2000s. Over their long lifespans, they wore many different, usually colorful, paint schemes which made these cars readily identifiable in any consist.

Features:

- Separately applied detail parts
- Prototypically accurate paint schemes and door configurations
- Knuckle couplers and free-rolling Symington roller bearing trucks
