In a further expansion to our Modern Truck range comes the Boniface Recovery trucks, shown here in their DAF and Scania forms. Virtually every vehicle manufactured at Boniface differs in some way, this is part of the unique service that is offered to its customers.

There are many recovery operators spread across the UK and their services vary - from simply picking up a motorbike, to complete incident management in major road traffic incidents. M8 is based in Glasgow and RS in the West Midlands, but both operate throughout the country. We will add several more liveries to the range over the next year.

AUSTIN A40 MKII

£3.49 - 1:76 Scale

NEW

Launched in 1961 the 948 cc engine was replaced in the autumn of 1962 by a larger 1098 cc version with an output of 48 bhp. The car now shared its engine with the recently introduced Morris 1100. Over 170,000 cars were produced and at the time it would have cost you around £700.

We have had many requests for a caravan, so we have added this classic to our range. A further colour scheme will release later in the year. Under the plinth you will find 5 tow hooks - which with a bit of glue/fettling can be added to the chassis of our cars.

It is very difficult deciding on quantities to produce of each of our releases. This is the 1:76 scale version of the Queen Mothers DS420. The 1:43rd scale release sold out within days, we have therefore made some extra quantities at the smaller scale - I just hope it is enough. We will have the Queen Mothers Jag MKVII releasing in the next couple of months.

The company was originally founded as a common carrier at the turn of the century, and served the local community by hauling goods to and from Northampton by horse drawn trailers. Knights of Old Ltd first used motorised vehicles in 1918 and 'A' licenses were granted for 3 trucks on the inauguration of the Road Traffic Act of 1933. Over the next few years Knights of Old expanded adding warehousing to its operation. Slowly they built an integrated storage & transport solution, which developed into a fully-fledged pick/pack and cross docking operation.

Motor vans were used for railway parcels collection and delivery work and many designs were seen in British Rail liveries until the service was closed down in 1981. In the late sixties all the vehicles were transferred to National Freight Carriers, but some were then leased back to British Railways. This HA is shown in the Rail Express Parcels livery.

In 1912 the first 'Get you home service' was introduced and for an annual subscription of one guinea a brass token was issued which could be sent by messenger to the nearest appointed repairer who would despatch a relief vehicle to take your party home or to the nearest railway station up to a radius of 20 miles. Our Land Rover would have been a familiar sight in the 1950's

Shell-Mex and BP Ltd was a British joint marketing venture between Shell and British Petroleum. It was formed in 1932 when both companies decided to merge their UK marketing operations, partly in response to the difficult economic conditions of the times. The parent organisations de-merged their United Kingdom marketing operations in 1976.
